

Urgent Care Association of America

Kenneth Engel, CPC, CHC, ACS-EM, CCP-P

Kenny Engel has worked on the front lines of medical coding and compliance for more than seventeen years. As Executive Vice President for Martin Gottlieb & Associates, one of America's leading physician-billing organizations, he has his finger firmly on the pulse of the changing healthcare environment.

Starting as a medical coder, he advanced in the profession to become the Corporate Compliance Officer of Gottlieb. He deployed his technical expertise as a developer of Gottlieb's advanced proprietary billing software.

During his career, he has gained rich experience in the most complex of issues involving physician reimbursement, coding and compliance. For six years, he administered his company's corporate-compliance program, researching and developing coding policy, performing medical reviews, and providing coding and documentation education to medical coders and physicians in a wide range of national forums. He now focuses on client satisfaction, working exclusively with clients and coders to improve the documentation, code capture and reimbursement cycle. His professional certifications include: Certified in Healthcare Compliance (CHC), Healthcare Compliance Certification Board; Certified Professional Coder (CPC), American Academy of Professional Coders; Advanced Coding Specialist—Evaluation and Management (ACS-EM), Board of Advanced Medical Coding; Certified Compliance Professional-Physician (CCP-P), Healthcare Fraud and Abuse Compliance Institute.
