

Urgent Care Association of America

David Wein, MD, MBA, FAAEM

Dr. Wein is an Assistant Professor of Emergency Medicine at the University of South Florida and the Medical Student Clerkship Director. He recently completed TeamHealth Southeast's Administrative Fellowship. Dr. Wein was voted best new attending by the USF emergency medicine residents in 2008. After completing his fellowship Dr. Wein helped implement a new LEAN process for patient flow through the Tampa General Hospital Emergency Department.

Dr. Wein earned a Bachelors of Art with Honors from the University of Florida, and continued his studies in Gainesville, earning his MD. Dr. Wein returned to his home town of St. Petersburg, Florida in 2007 after completing his residency in Emergency Medicine at Drexel University in Philadelphia. Dr. Wein graduated from the University of South Florida's Executive MBA program in May 2009, being selected to the Beta Gamma Sigma honor society. Dr. Wein also remains active in the Florida community serving on the O'Connell Society Executive Board for Florida Blue Key. He lives in St. Petersburg with his wife Rachel and their 1 year old son Aaron.

Contact Information:

Dr. David Wein
University of South Florida College of Medicine
DavidWein@alumni.ufl.edu
727-773-6674